PUBLIC LIBRARY PROFILE

INTRODUCTION

This summary of library statistics for the 1991-1992 reporting period is based upon data reported by 248 of the 277 Nebraska public libraries . The report is very similar to the previous year's statistical report, and includes:

---Reports on library services, income, expenditures, resources, circulation, and some output measures for service arranged by library system with system and statewide totals.

---An Index of Local Support has replaced the Ratio of Local Income to Valuation former used to estimate how well the library is supported by local tax funds, relative to its overall tax base. Although libraries are supported from a variety of public and private sources, the maximum library levy of 10.5 cents per $100 of assessed valuation provided in Nebraska Statutes is used as a basis of comparison. The index is expressed as a percentage of the amount of funding which would be produced by that 10.5 cent library levy. The formula used to calculate the index is:

Local Tax Funds / (Property Evaluation X .00105) X 100 = Index of Local Support

A library with a local tax income of $10,000 in a community having an assessed property evaluation of $10,000,000 would have an Index of Local Support of 95%: 10,000 / (10,000,000 X .00105) X 100 = 95

This measure has some limitations. A county library or joint city-county library will have a much higher assessed valuation due to the agricultural land within its tax base, and will therefore have an artificially low Index of Local Support, while a municipal library with major county funding through a contract for services will have a higher Index. Cities with local sales taxes will have a major source of funding not directly reflected in assessed valuation. However, it is hoped that this Index will give individual libraries some basis for evaluating the tax support which they receive.

---A summary of the above data arranged in six categories of population size. The summary includes the lowest, highest, average and total figures reported in each population group, and for all libraries reporting. Averages for such derived categories as per capita rates and ratios between categories of data may have limited statistical validity; it may be preferable to use the total rates for those categories of data.

---Graphs illustrating some of the statistical data by system and/or population served by public libraries in the state.

---An alphabetical index of libraries by city/village, including county, system abbreviation, library name, director's name, city/village population, and population served.

---An index of libraries by population served, with an indication of library city/village and library system for reference to those tables.
